ABDOMINAL SUPPORTERS, Trusses for sale at KESSLER'S.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR! PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD, COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS, is one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public; that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder and more effectual than any other medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful feelings experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it; and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The LIVER is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it performs its functions well, the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the healthy action of the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the stomach is at fault, and the whole system suffers in consequence of one organ—the LIVER—having ceased to do its duty. For the disease of that organ, one of the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable.

To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with LIVER COMPLAINT, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well. PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

BILIOUS ATTACKS are CURED, AND, WHAT IS BETTER, PREVENTED, by the occasional use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring. One dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures CostIVENESS. One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia One dose of two teaspoonsful will always relieve SICK HEADACHE.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure. Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while One dose often repeated is a sure cure for CHOLERA MORBUS, and a preventive of CHOLERA.

☞ Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of mediCine after a long sickness. ☞ One bottle taken for JAUNDICE removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite, and makes the food digest well

One dose often repeated cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst forms, while Summer and Bowel complaints yield almost to the first dose.

One or two doses cured attacks caused by WORMS in children: there is no remedy in the world, as sure, safer, or speedier as it. A few bottles cures Dropsy never fails. We take pleasure in recommending the medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type, and thousands are willing by exciting the absorbents to testify to its wonderful virtues. It operates with certainty,

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

☞ Mix Water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR IS A SCIENTIFIC MEDICAL DISCOVERY, and is daily working cures, almost too great to believe. It cures as if by magic, even the first dose giving benefit, and seldom more than one bottle is required to cure any kind of Liver Complaint, from the worst Jaundice or Dyspepsia to a common Headache, all of which are the result of a DISEASED LIVER.

PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

The Restorative of Prof. O. J. Wood for Restoring hair perfectly and permanently, has never yet had a rival, volume after volume might be given from all parts of the world and from the most intelligent to prove that it is a perfect Restorative; but read the circular and you cannot doubt; read also the following.

☞ The Hair.—People have for centuries been afflicted with bald heads and the only remedy, heretofore known, has been those abominable wigs. By a recent discovery of Professor Wood these articles are being fast dispensed with, but a great many persons still patronize them, because they have been so often imposed upon by Hair Tonics of different kinds. To all such persons we earnestly make the request, that they will try once again, for in Wood's Restorative there is no such thing as fail. We know of a lady who was bald, who used the article a short time, and her head is now covered completely with the tiniest and most beautiful curls imaginable. We know of numerous cases where hair was rapidly falling out, which it restored in greater perfection than it ever had been before.

It is also without doubt one of the best articles for keeping the hair in good condition, making it soft and glossy, removing dandruff, and has proved itself the greatest enemy to all the ills that hair is heir to.

It is the duty of every one to improve their personal appearance though some may differ in regard to the ways of doing it; but every one will admit that a beautiful head of hair, either in man or woman, is an object much to be desired, and there are no means that should be left untried to obtain such a consideration.—Woman's Advocate. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: As I have been engaged in selling your Hair Restorative the last season for one of your local agents (R. M. Hackinson,) and having experienced the beneficial effects of it myself, I would like to obtain an agency for the State of Ohio or some State in the West, should you wish to make such an arrangement as I am convinced there is nothing equal to it in the United States, for restoring the hair. I have been engaged in the Drug business for several years, and have sold various preparations for the hair, but have found nothing that restores the secretive organs or invigorates the scalp as well as yours, being fully convinced that your restorative is what you represent it to be, I would like to engage in the sale of it for I am satisfied it must sell. Yours truly.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO,—Gents: Having realized the good effects of your Hair Restorative, I wish to state, that finding my hair growing thin as well as gray, I was induced from what I read and heard, to try the article prepared by you, to promote its growth and change its color as it was in youth, both of which it has effected completely. In the operation I have used nearly three bottles.

Yours &c., JAMES FRANCIS.

A Western Railroad Dream.

["Corrupting the air with noisome smells is an actionable offence." See Blackstone's Commentaries, page 217, vol. 3, chapter 12.]

Sitting in a railcar, flying on by steam,
Head against the casement, dreamed a curious dream;
Yet I could not think it all a thing ideal,
For though very monstrous it was very real.

First there came a gentleman in patent leather,
Collar, bosom, wristband, Raglan, for the weather;
In the height of fashion, watch-key, hat, and glove,
And with air professional, spit upon the stove.

Near him sat a parson, telling how the Lord
Sent the great revivals, blessed the preached word;
But my dream discovered he was not above
Honey dew or fine cut, spitting on the stove.

Next came in a trader, pockets full of cash,
Talked about the country going all to smash;
"'Twas the women's dressing, did the thing, by Jove,"
Sipped a little brandy, spit upon the stove.

Then a jolly farmer, bragging of his wheat,
Thought his hogs and horses nowhere could be beat:
"Like to sell his Durhams by the head or drove,"
Kept his jaws a wagging, spit upon the stove.

Paddy thought 'twas "quare like, to be sitting still
All the whilst a goin' over bog and hill;"
"'Twas a glorious country, sure," as he could prove
Equal to his betters, spitting on the stove.

Witless, perfumed dandy, putting on his airs,
Flourished diamond breastpin, smoked in forward car;
Talked about Lamoreaux, "such a perfect love,".
Twirl'd a carrot moustache, spit upon the stove.

Little boy in short coat, wants to be a man,
Following example as the surest plan;
Watches gent and parson, copies every move,
And with Pat and trader, spit upon the stove.

Soon the flying railcar reeks with nauseous steam,
Ladies almost fainting, children in a scream;
Husband asking lady—"what's the matter love?
Have a glass of water?" spits upon the stove.

On we go still flying, not a breath of air,
Fit for Christian people, in that crowded car;
Sickening, fainting, dying, ladies make a move,
Gent throws up the window, spits upon the stove.

Now, perchance, this dreaming was not all a dream;
Think I've had a steaming, travelling by steam;
'Tis a public nuisance, any one can prove,
"All the air corrupting—spitting on the stove."

Talk of ladies' flounces, ribbons, jewels, flowers,
Crinolines and perfumes, gossip, idle hours;
Put all faults together, which men can't approve,
And they're not a match for—spitting on the stove.

Select Miscellany.

KATE YALE'S MARRIAGE.

"If ever I marry," Kate Yale used to say, half in jest, half in earnest, "the happy man, or the unhappy man, if you please, ha! ha! shall be a person possessed of these three qualifications: first, a fortune; second, good looks; third, common sense.

"I mention the fortune first, because I think it the most needful and desirable qualification of the three. Although I never could think of marrying a fool, or a man whose ugliness I should be ashamed of, still I think to talk sense for the one, and shine for the other with plenty of money, would be preferable to living obscure with a handsome intellectual man—to whom economy might be necessary."

I do not know how much of this sentiment came from Kate's heart. She undoubtedly indulged in lofty ideas of station and style—for her education in the duties and aims of life had been deficient, or rather erroneous; but that she was capable of deeper, better feeling, none ever doubted who have obtained even a partial glimpse of her true woman's nature.

And the time arrived when Kate was to take that all-important step of which she had often spoken so lightly—when she was to demonstrate to her friends how much of her heart was in the words we have just quoted.

At the enchanting age of eighteen she had many suitors; but as she never gave a serious thought to more than two, we will follow her example, and, discarding all others, except those favored ones, considering their relative claims.

If this were any other than a true story, I should certainly use an artist's privilege, and aim to produce an effect by making a strong contrast between the two favored individuals. If I could have my own way one should be a poor genious and something of a hero, the other a wealthy fool and somewhat of a knave.

But the truth is—our poor genius—was not much of a genius—not very poor either. He was by profession a teacher of music, and he could live very comfortable by the exercise thereof—without the most distant hope, however, of ever attaining to wealth. Moreover, Francis Minot possessed excellent qualities, which entitled him to be called by elderly people, a "fine character," by his companions, a "noble good fellow," and by the ladies geneally, a "darling."

Kate could not help loving Mr. Frank, and he knew it. He was certain she preferred his society even to that of Mr. Wellington, whom alone he saw fit to honor with the appellation of a rival.

This Mr. Wellington, (his companion called him "Duke,") was no idiot or humpback, as I could have wished him to be, in order to make a good story. On the contrary he was a man of sense, good looks, and fine manners, and there was nothing of the knave about him, as I could ever ascertain.

Besides this, his income was sufficient to enable him to live superbly. Also, he was considered two or three degrees handsomer than Mr. F. Minot.

Therefore, the only thing on which Frank had to depend, was the power he possessed over Kate's sympathies and affections. The "Duke," although just the man for her in every sense, being blessed with a fortune, good looks and common sense—had never been able to draw these out, and the amiable, conceited Mr. Frank was not willing to believe that she would suffer mere worldly considerations to control the aspirations of her heart.

However, one day, he pressed her to declare his fate, she said to him, with a sigh:

"Oh, Frank, I am sorry we ever met."

"Sorry!"

"Yes; for we must part now."

"Part!" exclaimed Frank, turning pale. It was evident he had not expected this.

"Yes—yes," said Kate, casting down her head with another piteous sigh.

Frank sat by her side; he placed his arm around her waist, without heeding her feeble resistance; he lowered his voice, and talked to her until she—proud Kate—wept, bitterly.

"Kate," said he, then, with a burst of passion, "I know you love me, but you are proud, ambitious, selfish! Now if you would have me leave you, say the word and I go."

"Go—go," murmered Kate, feebly.

"Have you decided?" whispered Frank.

"I have."

"Then, love, farewell!"

He took her hand, gazed a moment tenderly and sorrowfully into her beautiful, tearful face, and then clasped her to his bosom.

She permitted the embrace. She even gave way to the impulse, and twined her arm around his neck; but in a moment her resolution came to her aid, and she pushed him from her with a sigh.

"Shall I go?" he articulated.

A feeble yes fell from her lips, and an instant later, she was lying on the sofa, sobbing and weeping alone.

To tear the tenacious root of love out of her heart had cost her more than she could have anticipated; and the certainty of a golden life of luxury proved but a poor consolation, it seemed, for the sacrifice she had made.

She lay upon the sofa, sobbing and weeping passionately. Gradually her grief appeared to exhaust itself. Her tears ceased to flow, and at length her eyes and cheeks were dry. Her head was pillowed on her arm, and her face was half hidden in a flood of beautiful curls.

The struggle was over. The agony was past. She saw Mr. Wellington enter, and rose cheerfully to meet him. His manners pleased her—his station and fortune fascinated her more. He offered her his hand—she accepted it. A kiss sealed the engagement—but it was not such a kiss as Frank had given her, and she could scarcely repress a sigh.

There was a magnificent wedding.—Splendidly attired, dazzling the eye with her beauty thus adorned, with everything around swimming in the charmed atmosphere of fairy land, Kate gave her heart to the man her ambition—not her love—had chosen.

But, certainly ambition could not have made a better choice. Already she saw herself surrounded by a magnificent court, of which she was the acknowledged and admitted queen. The favors of fortune were showered upon her, she floated luxuriously upon the smooth and glassy wave of a charmed life.

Nothing was wanting in the whole circle of her existence to adorn it, and make it bright with happiness. But she was not long in discovering that there was something wanting in her breast.

Her friends were numerous, her husband tender, kind and loving; but all the attentions and affections could not fill her heart. She had once felt its chord and sympathy moved by a skillful touch—she had known the heavenly charm of the deep, delicious harmony, and now they were silent, motionless, muffled, so to speak, in silks and satins. These chords were still and soundless; her heart was dead, none the less so because killed by a golden shot, having known and felt the life of sympathy in it, unconsoled by the life of luxury. In short, Kate in time became magnificently miserable, splendidly unhappy.

Then a change became apparent in her husband. He could not remain long blind to the fact that his love was not returned. He sought the company of those whose gaiety might lead him to forget the sorrow and despair of his soul. This shallow joke, however, was unsatisfactory, and impelled by a powerful longing for love, he went astray to warm his heart by a strange fire.

Kate saw herself now in the midst of a gorgeous desolation, burning with a thirst unconquerable by golden streams that flowed around her—panting with a hunger which all the food of flattery and admiration could not appease.

She reproached her husband for deserting her thus, and he answered her with angry and desperate taunts of deception, and a total lack of love, which smote her conscience heavily.

"You do not care for me," he said, "then why do you complain that I bestow elsewhere the affection you have met with coldness?"

"But it is wrong—sinful," Kate remonstrated.

"Yes, I know it," said her husband, fiercely. "It is the evil fruit of an evil seed. And who sowed the seed? Who gave me a hand without a heart. Who became a sharer of my fortune, but gave me no share in her sympathy? Who devoted me to the life of a loving, unloved husband? Nay, do not weep, and clasp your hands, and sigh and sob with such desperation of impatience, for I say nothing you do not deserve to hear."

"Very well," said Kate. "I do not say your reproaches are undeserved. But granting I am the cold, deceitful thing you call me, you know this state of things cannot continue."

"Yes, I know it."

"Well?"

Mr. Wellington's brow gathered darkly his eyes flashed with determination—his lips curled with scorn.

"I have made up my mind," said he, "that we should not live together any longer. I am tired of being called the husband of the splendid Mrs. Wellington. I will move in my circle; you shall shine in yours. I will place no restraint on your actions, nor shall you on mine. We will be free."

"But the world!" shrieked poor Kate, trembling.

"The world will admire you the same—and what more do you desire?" asked her husband, bitterly. "This marriage of hands and not of hearts is mockery.—We have played the farce long enough.—Few understand the true meaning of the terms husband and wife; but do you know what they should mean? Do you feel that the only true union is that of love and sympathy? Then enough of this mummery. Farewell. I go to consult friends about the terms of separation.—Nay, do not tremble and cry, and cling to me now—I shall be liberal to you. As much of my fortune shall be yours as you desire."

He pushed her from him. She fell upon the sofa. From a heart torn with anquish she shrieked aloud:

"Frank! Frank! why did I send you from me? Why was I blind until sight brought me misery?

She lay upon the sofa sobbing and weeping passionately. Gradually her grief appeared to exhaust itself, her breathing became calm; her eyes and cheeks dry; her head lay peacefully on her arm, over which swept her dishevelled tresses—until, with a start, she cried:

"Frank! oh, Frank—come back!"

"Here I am," said a soft voice by her side. She raised her head. She opened her astonished eyes. Frank was standing before her.

"You have been asleep," he said, smiling kindly.

"Asleep!"

"And dreaming, too, I should say, not pleasantly, either."

"Dreaming!" murmured Kate, "and is it all a dream?"

"I hope so," replied Frank, taking her hand. "You could not mean to send me away from you so cruelly, I know. So I waited in your father's study, where I have been talking with him all of an hour. I came back to plead my cause once more, and found you here where I left you, asleep."

"Oh, what a horrible dream!" murmured Kate, rubbing her eyes. "It was so like a terrible reality, that I shudder to think of it. I thought I was married!"

"And would that be so horrible!" asked Frank. "I hope, then, you did not dream you were married to me!"

"No, I thought I gave my hand without my heart."

"Then, if you gave me your hand, it would not be without your heart?"

"No, Frank," said Kate, her bright eyes beaming happily through her tears, "and here it is."

And soon there was a real marriage—not a splendid, but a happy one—followed by a life of love and contentment, and that was the marriage of Frank Minot and Kate Yale.

PICKLED EGGS.—At the season of the year when eggs are plentiful, boil some four or six dozen in a capacious saucepan, until they become quite hard. Then, after carefully removing the shells, lay them in large-mouthed jars, and pour over them scalding vinegar, well seasoned with whole pepper, allspice, a few races of ginger, and a few cloves of garlic. When cold, bung down closely, and in a month they are fit for use. Where eggs are plentiful, the above pickle is by no means expensive.

TAILORING BY WHOLESALE.—In cutting garments for the British soldiers, the cloth is piled up, placed between two boards cut in the shape of patters, and compressed, and then sawed out, thus cutting one hundred or more garments at once.

Envy.

Envy is a mean passion. It neither consults reason nor waits until the judgment is exercised. It uses all the appliances that can be brought to bear upon its subject. Like the cormorant, it eats out the substance of everything outside of itself and then turns and preys upon its own vitality; and strange to say, that in feeding upon itself, it grows and strengthens and becomes more capable of performing its destructive work. The envious person can never be happy. The thing is impossible. As well expect the cormorant to be out of pain and experience pleasure with its sharp beak on its own heart, and drawing forth the fluid by which its life is sustained. If the silly bird that drinks its own blood can be at rest and satisfied, then may an envious man pronounce himself contented. But while the wound is open and bleeding, the process of destruction must be going on; and the result is inevitable. When the last drop is drawn forth, the work is finished. Envy destroys itself with the destruction of its possessor. But the worst of all is that while envy is doing its work of destruction in the heart that entertains it, none of the parties are at all hurt of disquieted. The vile passion can only prey upon itself. It can do no harm outside of the poor mistaken bosom that affords it a harbor.

THIS QUEER WORLD.—The following eloquent passage closes the Baccalaureate Address of Hon. A. B. Longstreet, President of the South Carolina College, at Columbia, to the recent graduating class:

"You are embarking upon a strange world my young friends. It banished Aristides, poisoned Socrates, murdered Cicero, and crucified the Lord of Glory. The spirit of Themistocles, of Molitus, of Anthony and Caiaphas is still in the world, greatly subdued and law-bond, to be sure, but not extinguished. You may expect, therefore, at times to be depressed by your rivals, condemned for your patriotism, and tormented for your benefactions; to have your confidence abused, your integrity derided and to suffer a thousand impositions in smaller matters—from those from whom you had a right to expect better things.—These are hard things to bear, say you. They are so, my young friends, and you never will bear them as you should, unless you take the good book for your guide, and look daily to its Author for supplies of strenght sufficient for your trial. Do this, and all will be well at last. With that chart in your hand, now launch your barque upon the troubled ocean of life; and when the squalls strike you, be at least as prudent as the common sailor, and be found hard at the helm, with your chart before you and your eye fixed on Bethlehem's star.

THE DYING NEVER WEEP.—It is a striking fact—the dying never weep. The circle of sobbing, agonized hearts around, produces not one tear. Is it that he is insensible and stiff already in the chill of dissolution? That cannot be; for he asks for his father's hand, as if to gain strength in the mortal struggle, and leans on the breast of mother, brother or sister, with still conscious affection; and just before expiring, at eve, after a long day's converse with the Angel of Summons, he says to his oldest brother—the last audible good night of earth—"Kiss me—kiss me!" It must be because the dying have reached a point too deep for earthly crying and weeping. They are face to face with higher and holier beings, with the Father in heaven, and his angel throng, led on by the Son himself; and what are the griefs of a morning, tears of a dying farewell—be it that they are shed by the dearest on earth—in that vision bright of immortal life and everlasting reunion!

THE DROP GAME.—A young London swell, whilst waiting for the train at York, went into a tavern, and cast about for some amusement. Feeling secure in the possession of the most money, he made the following offer: "I will drop money into a hat with any man in the room.—The man who holds out the longest shall take the whole and treat the company." "I'll do it," said an old farmer. The cockney dropped in a shilling; the farmer followed with another. "Go on," said the cockney, dropping in another. "I won't" said the Yorkshireman; "take the whole, and treat the company."

RELIGION AT HOME.—Religion begins in the family. One of the holiest sanctuaries on earth is home. The family altar is more venerable than any altar in a church built with hands. The education of the soul for eternity begins by the fireside. The principle of love which is to be carried through the universe is first unfolded in the family. "Let them learn first," says the apostle, "to show piety at home."

LADIES' HOME MAGAZINE.—This neat little monthly for June is on our table, stored, like the granery of a good farmer, with the choicest productions—not of the soil, however—but of literary genius.—Published by T. S. Arthur & Co., Philadelphia. Price $2,00.

☞ Peterson's Magazine, for June, came to hand with its usual promptness. Its appearance is always hailed with delight by those who are accustomed to receive it. The low price at which it is published brings it within the reach of almost every lady in the land. Price $2 per annum. C. J. Peterson, Phila.

CANDIDATES FOR PRESIDENT.—The Chambersburg Repository and Transcript runs up the name of W. F. Johnston, of Pittsburgh, as the next candidate for the Presidency, subject to the Peoples' National nominating Convention. The Delaware County Republican advocates the nomination of John M. Reed, of Philadelphia, as the Republican candidate for President in 1860.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The June number of this deservedly popular publication, which is rapidly superceding all others of its style, is before us. No one can loose his or her interest in this Magazine, who has commenced the story of the Ministers Wooing," written by Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe. It is one of that famed authoresses best stories, and she has written some good ones. Everybody should subscribe for the Atlantic Monthly.—Price $3 per annum. We will furnish it for $2,00.

THE MORMONS.—It appears by statements coming from Washington that the movements being made with regard to the Mormons leaving the continent is not a party one, and did not originate with politicians. It originated with certain shipping and commercial men in combination with the Mormon chiefs. The plan is not yet matured, but it is highly probable that it will be within a short time. The principle of it is that the Mormons shall be paid for their improvements at a fair valuation, and that with these means they will be able to pay for their transportation to an Island on the Pacific selected for that purpose.

PIKE'S PEAK HUMBUG.—By reference to an article in another column, it will be seen that the accounts from this "famous fabled country" are anything but cheering at the present time. In our opinion it is one of the most magnificent humbugs of the present age. Starvation, murder and suicides are the order of the day at Pike's Peak. It is next to death to stay there and almost certain death to attempt to return. A telegraphic dispatch from St. Louis, dated May 28d says a private letter dated Pacific City, Iowa, states that a report had just reached that place that a party of starving Pike's Peak emigrants attacked and captured an outward-bound train near Offallons, Bluffs. During the melee D. C. Oaks, the conductor, was killed; and Mr. Griffith the newly appointed Postmaster for Austria, who was en route to take charge of his post, was hung by the desperadoes. This, in connection with the account published elsewhere shows the condition of the deluded people who have gone thither.

GODEY'S LADEY'S BOOK.—While others imitate, to a certain extent, the perfections of Godey's last, each succeeding number of Godey's Lady's Book excels the former. There is no standing still with him. He has never learned the meaning of the word "halt," but understands and practices the motto of "upward and onward." Lady reader, are you a subscriber to Godey's, if not become one at once. The June number now on our table is a model. Price $3, per annum. We will furnish it for $2,00.

AN AERONAUTIC ENTERPRISE.—Wise, the aeronaut, has just completed his arrangements preparatory to a trans-continental voyage from St. Louis to Atlantic seaboard, in his monster balloon the "Nineteenth Century," which is sixty-eight feet in diameter, and will contain from sixty to eighty thousand feet of gas. Mr. Wise expects to make the start from St. Louis about the middle or latter part of June, or at the farthest, early in July. Mr. Wise is prosecuting this undertaking at his own expense, regarding it chiefly as an experiment with which to satisfy himself of the practicability of his long cherished scheme of aeronauting across the Atlantic ocean.

DOUBLE EXECUTION.—The execution of Christian Jacobi and David S. Evans, convicted of murdering their wives, took place in the jail yard, at Pittsburgh, on Friday last. Both the unfortunates appeared to be deeply penitent, and expressed themselves willing to die, having made their peace with their God. On being led to the scaffold Jacobi refused to say anything to the people present, but Evans made a short speech, which will be found in another column, in which he declared his innocence of the crime of which he had been convicted.

☞ A Clincher.—The term, "clincher" is said to have originated in the following manner: Two men were disputing as to which could tell the biggest lie. One said that one night, he threw a ten-penny nail quite through the body of the moon. "That's true," replied the other, "for I was on the other side at the very moment with a claw hammer, and clinched the nail!" Ever since, every outrageous falsehood has been termed a clincher.

☞ The Emperor of France, the Emperor of Austria and the King of Sardinia, all intend to head their respective armies in the coming campaign. ☞ The European Immigration to this country, during the present year, it is predicted, will far exceed that of any previous one. It is stated by the liverpool Times of April 29th, that about 10,000 persons had left that port alone during April, for our shores, and chiefly for New York.

☞ Another case of mystery and horror has been opened in New York, by the finding of the remains of a young woman, cut up and packed away in the water closet of a tenement in that city, on Saturday morning. The doctors expressed the belief that the young unfortunate had probably been the victim of seduction, murdered in procuring, abortion, and the remains thus butchered and hid away to conceal the former crimes.

Death Speech of Evans.

GENTLEMEN:—I stand before you for the last time. A few more minutes, and I shall be in the presence of my Maker and Judge. Since the 11th of May, 1858, I have been deeply in the waters of affliction; but while thus encompassed, I have had the Lord Jesus Christ to sustain me. A dear companion was then taken from me, for whom I would willingly have laid down my life. Of her death I have been convicted; but before God, my Maker, I declare my innocence. Who did the awful deed I know not. I die innocent, but hope my death may be a means of good to some here. I once promised to make a statement to the public before my execution; but as it has refused belief to what has already been offered, I have decided to refrain. [He here referred to some statements which were given in evidence on his trial.] I was going to declare these statements false; but I leave the witnesses to their God. I did not see Riddle that morning; and did not discover the loss of the money until some time after. I entertain no enmity to the witnesses against me; and leave them to a higher Being. I could get down on my knees and pray for all of them; and I sincerely hope to meet them all where sin and sorrow shall be no more. But I am not a left-handed man, and the witnesses knew it was false.

In yonder cell, I have bowed before my God; I have prayed for them and me. I have made a written statement, which is in the hands of a friend, with liberty to publish if he and others think best. It contains more than I can tell.—Before I leave the world, I want to declare my trust in my Saviour and Redeemer, my belief that he has forgiven my sins, and that he will clothe me with the robes of purity and bliss.—Let your hearts intercede in my behalf, that when my body drops, my soul may fly aloft to an everlasting habitation. [After conferring with his spiritual advisers he proceeded.] Gentlemen, if I know anything of my own heart, I love the Lord Jesus. I know that for his sake my sins have been forgiven. I have a home beyond this vale of tears—a home in the heavens. I know that my Redeemer liveth, and I believe that when the drop shall fall, the Lord Jesus will receive me to a home above. I feel happy in anticipating that I shall soon join them on high—my beloved companion and offspring. I hope to dwell with them and my Lord Jesus. I have nothing more to say except that I am going home, and expect to enjoy a blessed immortality.

DUTIES OF UNITED STATES MARSHALS.—The opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Wisconsin fugitive slave case has at length been published. Though we have hitherto given the substance of that part of it regarding the powers of the Federal Courts and the duties of the Federal officers in cases arrising under the Federal laws, we subjoin, for the better information of the public, a paragraph from the official copy of the opinion—

"Although it is the duty of the Marshal or other persons holding him to make known by a proper return the authority under which he detains him, it is at the same time imperatively his duty to obey the process of the United States: to hold the prisoner in custody under it, and to refuse obedience to the mandate or process of any other Goverament. And consequently it is his duty not to take the prisoner, nor suffer him to be taken, before a State judge or court upon a habeas corpus issued under State authority. No State judge or court, after they are judicially informed that the party is imprisoned under the authority of the United States, has any right to interfere with him, or to require him to be brought before them. And if the authority of a State, in the form of judicial process or otherwise, should attempt to control the Marshall or other authorized agent of the United States, in any respect, in the custody of his prisoner, it would be his duty to resist it, and to call to his aid any force that may be necessary to maintain the authority of the law against illegal interference. No judicial process, whatever form it may assume, can have any lawful authority outside of the limits of the jurisdiction of the court or judge by whom it is issued: and an attempt to force it beyond these boundaries is nothing less than lawless violence."

IN FOR IT.—HE "WOULD NOT LIVE ALWAYS."—Herndon, the clerical wife poisoner at Newark, N. J., the day before his arrest, preached a sermon from the sublime passage "I would not live always." He needn't be apprehensive of anything of the kind if he gets into the clutches of a New Jersey jury. Jersey juries are death on verdicts in capital cases. He is a man of considerable talent, and bears a reputation of most extraordinary hypocrisy. He was ultra in everything, and was especially distinguished for his bitter antagonism to capital punishment.

THE RAILROAD WAR.—The recent negotiations in New York for the discontinuance of the existing injuries competition between the principal railroad companies has fallen through. The New York Central refuses to allow the Southern roads the advantages of their geographical position, and declares an intention to carry freight from New York to any common point West as cheap as they do from Philadelphia or Baltimore. The war, therefore, goes on.

Battles in Europe.

As a matter of interest, at present, we give the following results of desperate battles fought in Europe since 1812:

On the heights, four miles from Salamanca, in Spain, the English and Spaniards under Wellington, totally defeated the French under Marmont, on the 22d July, 1812. The allies lost 5,200 men, and the French 16,000.

At the battle of Smolensk, in Russia, in 1812, the French loss was 17,000.

At Borodina, on the 7th September, was fought a desperate battle between the Russians and French. The French lost in killed, wounded and prisoners, 50,000, and the Russians about the same number. The survivors of the French army, from the Russian campaign, were not more than 35,000 out of an army of 600,000 men.

At Lutzen, in Russian Saxony, on the 2d of May, 1813, the allied Russia and Prussian forces were defeated by the French under Napoleon, the French losing 18,000 and the allies 15,000 men.

At Bautzen, in Saxony, on the 21st and 22d May, 1813, a battle took place between the allies and the French, in which the French loss was put down at 25,000 men, and that of the allies 15,000.

At Dresden, in Saxony, on the 16th and 17th August, 1815, the allies were defeated by the French. The loss of the allies was about 25,000 killed, wounded and prisoners, and that of the French about 12,000.

At Leipsic, in Saxony, in October 1813, a desperate battle was fought, which lasted three days, and the French were totally defeated by the allies. Napoleon lost two marshal, twenty generals and 60,000 men. The allies tost 1,790 officers and about 40,000 men.

At Victoria, in Spain, on the 31st June, 1813, the English and French fought a battle, in which the French lost 7,000 and the English 5,-180.

At Toulouse, in France, Wellington defeated the French under Soult, on the 10th April, 1814. The French loss was 4,700, allied army's loss 4,-580 men.

At Ligny, in France, a battle occured between the Prussians and French of the 16th June, 1815, two days before the battle of Waterloo, in which the Prussians lost 15,000 men, and the French 6,800.

In the indecisive battle at Quatre Bras, in Belgium, on the 16th of June, the day before that of Waterloo, the allies lost 5,200 men, and the French 114.

At Waterloo the total loss of the allies, was 15,686 men. Napoleon's was about 40,000.

Neither the Austrians nor Prussians can derive much encouragement from history to engage in a war with France. The French troops have only been matched in these wars by the English, the Spaniards and the Russians—scarcely by the last named.

ANOTHER TRAGEDY—A HUSBAND KILLS HIS WIFE'S PARMOUR.—A shocking tragedy occurred in Cincinnati, on Wednesday night. A man named Richard Mahone, the father of three children, was deliberately shot and killed at a public house, by John W. Clawson, who was immediately arrested. The Commercial thus details the circumstances which led to the deed:—

Clawson is a young man, not probably over twenty-four years of age. His troubles seem all to have occurred from an unfortunate marriage. Six years ago, he led to the alter a young and beautiful girl of Philadelphia. The marriage was opposed by both his and her friends. The objections urged were their ages—she not yet fifteen; while he wanted three years before attaining his majority. Despite the warnings and counsel of friends, they eloped and were married clandestinely. They came to this city, and for two years their lives were happy, but at last the tempter invaded the sanctity of their home, and the girl—though a mother, still a girl—again eloped not as a wife, but as a mistress. She was soon forsaken by her seducer, and writing to her husband—who sill cherished for his erring wife an unaltered affection—a penitent letter, he received her again, with all her imperfection. Two more years rolled away, she performed in the interim the duties of a wife and mother in their fullest sense, the dark spot on their marriage existence was almost forgotten, when a fiend more arch than the first, ingratiated himself into their houshold, and succeeded in alluring her from the path of honor. This was the man whom the husband killed. For a time stolen interviews were had, but of late the twain have lived together publicly, as man and mistress.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER THE THROUGH MAIL AGENT AND ROB THE MAILS AND EXPRESS CHEST.—On Wednesday evening, as the express train that leaves New York at 5 o'clock, P. M., on the New York and Erie Railroad, left Port Jervis, 88 miles from New York, a few minutes past 9 o'clock, a fellow attempted to administer chloroform to Mr. Adam Keck, the mail agent. A sponge well saturated was applied, but in the act, a drop fell on Mr keck's face, which aroused him. Springing up, the person clinched the agent by the cravat and drew a six-barrelled pistol. The mail agent seized the pistol just by the cock, and the two had a severe tussal for ten minutes or more, during which time the pistol dropped. The robber then attempted to use a slung shot, which he also lost during the tussel, and was altogether roughly handled.—During the souffle three or four express boxes were broken by the parties falling on them, and the iron rods in front of the window were bent out four inches and the glass broken. Unfortunately the bell rope was pulled by one of them, which brought the train to a stand. The robber broke away and jumped off the car before the conductor could seize him. The car was so full of the chloroform that it was actually suffocating. The robber left behind him an overcoat valued at $35, the six barrelled pistol, a basket containing provisions, a bottle of brandy, a bag, supposed to put the money in, (if he got any,) and the slung shot. No doubt he expected to kill the express messenger, and the mail agent also, if they made any resistance, take the key of the safe and extract the money, of which there was $100,000.

FLOATING BRICK.—Bricks that will float used to be made years ago, but the art has been lost till recently. A Monsieur Fabroni has, it is said, discovered their composition, which is said to be fifty-five parts of silicecus earth, fifteen of magnesia, fourteen of water, twelve of alumina, three of lime, and one of iron. They are infusible, and will float in water though one twentieth part of common clay be added to them.—They resist water, unite perfectly with lime, and are subject to no change from heat or cold. They are nearly as strong as common brick, though only about one-sixth as heavy, or considerably lighter than water. They are such poor conductors of heat that one end may be heated red hot while the other end is held in the hand.

A BLOODY RETRIBUTION.—R. B. Jordan, some time since, seduced the daughter of a widow at San Andreas, Texas, and, although frequently warned by members of the community in which he lived, refused positively, to marry the girl, with whom, however he continued to live. About a month ago a prosecution was commenced against him, and he was again earnestly requested to marry his victim, but again expressed his determination to live as he chose.—On Sunday, the 17th ult, he left home, and soon after the reports of several guns were heard, and his body was found fairly riddled with over twenty balls.

Deplorable Accounts of Pike's Peakers.

A dispatch from St. Louis, dated May 23d, says:

The St. Joseph's (Mo.) correspondent of the Democrat, of this city, notices the arrival at that place of a hundred returned Pikes's Peakers, who bring most deplorable accounts of the mining prospects, and of the sufferings of the disappointed gold hunters, on the plains.

It is estimated that 20,000 men are now on their way back, all or most of whom are destitute of money and the necessaries of life, and are consequently perfectly reckless and desperate.

Threats have been made by some of the most desperate, to burn Omaha, St. Joseph, Leavenworth, and other towns, in consequence of the deception used in those places to induce the emigration.

Two thousand men are reported to be fifty miles west of Omaha, in a starving condition.

Some of the residents of Plattsmoth have closed their business places and fled, fearing violence at the hands of the enraged emigrants.

A letter dated Cotton Wood Springs, April 28th, says: "We are in a tight place here.—On the road from the crossing down we have five stations, which are crammed full of beggars from morning till night, and at the rate we are doing business, we will soon have to close.—Pike's Peak has turned out to be a humbug, and the road is lined with starving men; and God knows, we have got to give them something to eat as long as we have it. I can't see a man lie down in the prairie and starve.

"If you could do something to keep the poor deluded devils from starting, you would be doing a kindness to humanity. We will try and get through as well as possible, but lots of the poor fellows are bound to die. There are no provisions in the country, only what belongs to the Mail Company. The traders along the road have nothing in the way of provisions.—They (the emigrants) have not attempted to force anything yet, but they are bound to do it, if you do not give them something to eat."

ALL ABOUT SHOES!
Gentlemen are Requested not to Read this

We do not boast of Auction Shoes
At shillings six a pair,
For sure no lady would them choose
That wants a shoe to wear.

Now very much we feel inclin'd
Such Gaiters to expose,
They are not good, and you will find
Them bursting round the toes.

Such ill-made Shoes you could not wear
We often with them meet;
Just made to sell they rip and tear
When walking in the street.

A lady passing by one day
Was caused a deal of trouble,
Superbly dress'd in garments gay
And Shoes not worth a bubble.

New pair of Shoes, and good ones too,
As the dear lady thought,
Until her feet protruding though
Proclaimed them good for naught.

We pay the prices for our work
To have it honest made,
To worthy men who are in truth
The masters of their trade.

And we can boast of extra nice
Of beautiful and neat,
Of fairy Shoes at rarest price
To decorate the feet.

LOCAL ITEMS.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last, Lewis D'Arnitt, a conductor on Local Freight Train Eastward, was so severely injured, by being knocked off the cars, while they were in motion, that he died the same evening. It appears that he was on the deck of one of the cars walking toward the rear end of the train, while it was passing under a bridge, immediately below Bell's Mills station. The bridge struck him on the back of the head and he fell on the track between the cars. He was taken up immediately and brought back to this place, and Dr. Finley summoned to dress his wounds, the extent of which the Dr. has kindly furnished us. He had received a severe concussion of the brain and four cuts on different parts of the head—one laying open his nose, extending through the floor of the nostril, the roof of the mouth and the front of the upper jaw, forcing out two teeth. His right hand and wrist were crushed by a wheel passing over them. A hole about three inches deep was bored into the upper and outer third of the right thigh, dreadfully mangling the muscles and tearing up the tendons. The skin and flesh were entirely stripped from the front half of the limb from above the knee to the instep, exposing the bare knee joint (into which a hole was punched,) and the entire length of the shin bone. Blood oozed from the corners of his eyes and discharged freely from his ears. Under the circumstances it was impossible for the Dr. to do anything for him further than to relieve his pain. The accident occurred about 11 o'clock in the morning and the unfortunate man lingered until about 8 o'clock in the evening. His remains were taken charge of by the I. O. of R. M., of this place, and conveyed on an extra train, on Sunday morning, to Tyrone, where his friends reside, for interment. He was unmarried.

EDITORIAL VISITORS.—We neglected, last week, to notice a number of our brethen of the quill, who have lately been paying us pop visits. First came J. M. Laird, Esq., of the Greensburg Argus, with whom we met for the first time.—He proved to be all our "fancy painted him"—an affable gentleman, and, like many other good Democratic editors, "down on" Buchanan and his followers.

Next came our good natured cotemporary of Huntingdon Globe, and proprietor of the "Ancient Borough" "one-horse" Book Store, Billy Lewis. He was attending the meeting of the Forney Democratic State Central Committee, with which wing of the party he sympathises, and in our opinion he has good reasons for so doing, both personally and politically.

Last, but not least, so far as good looks are concerned, came the junior of our namesake over the mountain, J. M. Swank. It was in the morning he visited us, and he looked as well as could be expected, after a long evening spent in the society of a "sunny eyed rosy cheeked lass." There now, excuse us, Jim, we didn't intend to "let the cat out of the bag," but we could not resist the temptation to quote that sentence from "Kitty Klide;" it was so appropriate. We'll promise James, indeed we will, to "not do so anymore," on the occasion of future visits, if you will but "forgive and forget" this "slip of of the pen."

DUFF'S NEW MERCANTILE COLLEGE HALL IRON BUILDINGS, FIFTH STREET, PITTSBURGH.—Since the occupation of its splendid new Hall, we learn that this institution has attained a degree of popularity and prosperity unexampled in its previous history. The Book-keeping Department, having the daily lectures and supervision of the author of Duff's Book-keeping, (the only practical merchant directing a Commercial College in the United States,) with the able assistance of Professors Westervelt and Riley, offers the commercial students practical advantages which they can obtain from no other similar institution. In the Writing Department, all the ornamental branches of the art, as well as business penmanship, are taught by Mr. J. S. Duncan, author of "Gems of Penmanship," assisted by Mr. W. H. Duff. The last Pennsylvania, Missouri, and the U. State Fairs, awarded to Mr. D. the first premiums (now exhibited in the College office) for both business and ornamental Penmanship. N. B. Hatch, Esq., member of the Pittsburgh Bar, delivers the weekly lectures on all branches of Commercial Law.—This is also, the only school in the West which is instructed by a professional teacher of detecting counterfeit Bank notes, and Mr. Murphy, author of the "Infallible Counterfeit Bank Note Detector," teaches by a method recognized by Bankers as of a highly practical value. In conclusion, it may be stated that no names are held out as professors or lecturers, who are not regularly on duty in the class-room, whose services the student can rely upon obtaining.

ELECTION.—The election for officers of the Altoona Gas and Water Company, held on Monday afternoon last, resulted as follows:—

President—Wm. H. Wilson.
Treasurer—Wm. M. Lloyd.
Secretary—Benj. F. Rose.
Managers—John Shoemaker, Enos M. Jones, Chas. J. Mann, A. B. Clark, Geo. B. Cramer.

We can not permit this opportunity to pass without again urging upon our citizens, who have the means, to subscribe at once to the capital stock of the Company. We have been often asked of late, why it is that the property holders of the town do not take stock more freely. We can not answer the interrogatory in any other way than to attribute it to a want of enterprise. Now this has not been the character of our people heretofore, and we hope we are not relapsing into "old fogydom."

MORE HORSE POISONING.—We learn from last week's Standard that the horse poisoners have not given up their devilish work. Two horses belonging to Samuel Smith, of Scotch Valley, were taken down on Sunday night week, the symptoms being the same as manifested by the horses of Mr. Stewart, an account of which we published some time since. We hope the villain may be detected and compelled to suffer the severest penalty of the law.

PRINTERS IN LUCK.—Although the pathway through life of the disciples of Faust is usually dark and gloomy, nevertheless there are bright spots here and there which loom up in the distance, like the welcome Oasis before the weary traveller in the Great Sahara. Our approximation to one of these bright spots was revealed, a few days since, by the quick tread and light, buoyant step of our Jeemee, as he entered the office on returning from a tour of observation up street. That there was "something up" could easily be discerned in the happy expression which flitted o'er his classic brow, lurked in the corners of his lustrous eyes and played mischievously around his half compressed lips. Inquiring into the cause of his ecstacy, he informed us that Jake, the baker, (Jacob Wise, we mean) whose place of business is on the corner of Virginia and Caroline streets, immediately above Hileman's store, was preparing for us a delicious cake, about the size of the new moon, which would be sent in in a couple of hours. True to promise, the cake appeared, but not alone; a basket containing several bottles of mead accompanied it. Coming from Jake's establishment, we knew the presents were first-rate and forthwith "went in." The cake was pronounced delicious by all who had the pleasure of testing its merits and the mead was ditto to the cake. If you want a tip top cake or good glass of mead call at Jake's.

TYRONE AND VICINITY.—We copy the following items from the Tyrone Star of Saturday last:—

A BAD MAN.—A certain Bill Sisler, of Ironsville, who had gained some notoriety by his fighting propensities, and general bad conduct, has again been guilty of a gross outrage. It seems that a man by the name of Williams, and who, we learn, is addicted to drinking too much liquor at times, was in Ironsville the other evening, where he exhibited some money which had been given him by a brother in-law, for the purpose of moving his family from Indiana county to this neigborhood; that Sisler, with another man whose name we cannot learn, beat and abused Williams in a most dreadful manner, so that Williams was not able to speak for two or three days; and that, had it not been for one of the watchmen of the Pennsylvania railroad who was on duty, and who came along just as Sisler remarked to his accomplice to hold on until he could get his knife, when he would soon put a stop to his struggling. Williams was robbed of everything about his person, except his clothes. An effort is now being made to arrest Sisler, and we sincerely hope it may prove successful, as he is the same man who was up before our Court, on charge of assault and battery.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.—On Monday last, a party of men met at Julian Furnace, at a shooting match, when a difficulty arose between Jack Yeager and Reuben Richards, who had been "bad friends" since last winter. Yeager drew a knife on Richards (who is a much larger man than Yeager,) and then ran away to a house about a mile on this side of the Furnace, where he secreted himself, with his loaded rifle, on the garret. In the evening, as Richards was returning home, in company with a man by the name of Henderson, and when opposite the house in which Yeager was secreted, Yeager aimed his rifle at Richards, and fired—the ball entering the breast, in a downward direction. Two skillful physicians were sent for, who probed for the ball but failed to find it.

HORSE STOLEN.—On Monday night last, about 12 o'clock, a man by the name of Caraher, broke open the hackney-stable belonging to Bald Eagle Furnance, in this county, and stole therefrom one of the hackney horses. The animal, however, has since been recovered, and the thief arrested and furnished with a "free pass" to Hollidaysburg, as a guest of the county.

☞ The following items which we clip from the Tyrone Star and Harrisburg Patriot and Union, explain themselves and each other:—

STRANGE CONDUCT.—On Wednesday night last, a young lady of this place, (whose name we suppress on account of her former respectability, and that of her parents,) packed up her "duds and trinkets," disguised herself with a veil, green spectacles, &c., and took a passage on the train for Huntingdon, without the knowledge of her parents! The next day, her father followed her and brought her back. Her conduct has afflicted her parents very much, and it is to be hoped that she has learned a lesson which she will not soon forget. It has been intimated that a certain individual who was formerly a resident of this place for a short time, but who now lives in Huntingdon, had better "make himself scarce," lest his earthly career might suddenly be cut short!

ELOPEMENT.—Our police officers received a telegraphic dispatch yesterday, from Mr. Cruthor, a hotel keeper in Tyrone City, requesting them to arrest his daughter, who had eloped with a married man by the name of D. S. Africa. The officers were promptly at the depot, and awaited the arrival of the train, but one of the birds had been caged, and the other had flown. The conductor, Mr. Weitzel informed them that the would be happy bride, had been taken at Huntingdon, and escorted back to Tyrone, by her anxious parent. The African gentleman thinking that discretion was the better part of valor, sloped for parts unknown, and thus evaded the eagle eyes of our police. Such is the history of the elopement.

KEEP OUT OF HARM'S WAY.—This is good advice to all persons, at any time, but especially at a season of the year when coughs and colds harass the system and which frequently lay the foundation of permanent disease of the lungs or some of the organs connected with respiration. To all afflicted in that way an early resort to the proper medicine will at once arrest the malady and hinder the developement of an incurable disease. Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Cough Syrup made by him at his medicine store, 140 Wood Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., is such a medicine, and if it were resorted to at the commencement of a cough or influenza, there would be fewer deaths from pulmonary consumption. You can buy it at G. W. Kessler's, Altoona.

FINISHED.—The new building put up by Mr. Lewis Plack, immediately opposite our office, intended for a wholesale liquor and grocery store, received the finishing touch from the brush of the painter on Monday last, and he has already moved his goods into it. As will be seen by reference to his advertisement in another column, he has on hand a choice assortment of liquors which he will sell at city prices. Those who buy liquor for themselves or to sell to others, should be careful to get a good article. Let all such call at Plack's and sample his brands.

OUT AGAIN.—Michael Tracy, the freight conductor who had his foot crushed at Mapleton station a couple of months since, and his leg afterwards amputated above the knee, made his appearance up town on Saturday last for first time since the accident. He looks somewhat bleached by long confinement.

For the Altoona Tribune.

A NUISANCE.—We have frequently noticed that many young men, and often men of mature years, are given to the ungentlemanly practice of standing about the doors of our churches, at the opening and closing of services, and blocking up the passages to such an extent that it is almost impossible for ladies to pass either in or out. Ladies do not like to be stared at by a "body of gaping fools," and are much annoyed by such reprehensible conduct. This nuisance appears to be increasing, as we were sorry to notice on Sabbath evening last. On that evening the entrance to one of our churches was almost blockaded by a body of persons who were making a melancholly display of their lack of brains. It is hoped that those who are guilty of such conduct will take notice and be more careful in future. They are certainly either unaware of the injury they are doing themselves thereby, or are finished balckguards who wish to display their education in that science. "A word to the wise" &c.,

CRITIC.

"Critic" is entirely too mild in his denunciation of "Church door loafing." In the opinion of every lady in the land the epithed of "church door loafer" is not second in meanness to anything outside of the Penitentiary. There may be a few who are ignorant of the fact that it is mean to stand at a church door and gape at ladies as they pass in and out, but they seldom have brass enough to do so; it is generally the latter class mentioned by "Critic" who may be found there. It don't take the ladies long to get acquainted with these fellows, and they generally remember them.

MILITARY ELECTION.—Agreeably to the provisions of the new military law passed last winter, the several military companies in this county are required to meet at their armories on Monday the 6th of June, to elect a Brigadier General, Brigade Inspector, Colonel, Lieutenant Colonel, and Major. The companies also elect their commissioned officers on that day.—On the first Monday in July next, the commissioned officers elected on the 6th of June, will meet those of Cambria and Somerset counties, to elect a Major General for this Division.

COUNTY FAIR.—A meeting of the Board of Managers of the Blair County Agricultural Society will be held at Hollidaysburg to-morrow (Friday) afternoon, to decide when and where the Fair shall be held this year. Now is the time for our citizens to put in for the holding if it at this place. We think it should be held at this place this year and we believe it will be, if our citizens unite in asking it. Let those who are interested see to the matter.

RELIGIOUS.—We are pleased to announce that Bishop Simpson will be in this place on Sunday week and officiate in the Methodist Church.—Rev. Alfred Cookman is confidently expected to be present on the same day and assist in the exercises, Rev. Geo Guyer, P. E., and other distinguished ministers will also be in attendance We shall give a more extended notice of the services, next week.

AMERICAN HOUSE.—This fine house, situated on the corner of Caroline and Emma streets, has passed into the hands of Mahlon Hamilton, formerly of Gaysport, who promises to keep it in the best style and make it a desirable stopping place for strangers and travellers. He has a good stable on the premises for the accommodation of horses, thus making it a desirable stopping place for country people.

FITS! FITS! FITS!

Persons laboring under this distressing malady will find Dr. Hance's Epileptic Pills to be the only remedy ever discovered for curing Epilepsy or Falling Fits. These Pills possess a specific action on the nervous system; and although prepared especially for the purpose of curing Fits, they will be found of especial benefit to all persons afflicted with weak nerves, or whose nervous system has been prostrated or shattered from any cause whatever. The dyspeptic patient, whose stomach has not lost the power of duly converting food into a life sustaining element, is relieved by a single course of the extraordinary Pills. The gastric fluid re-acquires its solvent power, and the crude nutriment which was a load and a burden to the sufferer, while his digestive organization was paralysed and unstrung, becomes under the wholesome revolution created in the system, the basis of strength, activity, and health.

Sent to any part of the country by mail, free of postage. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Md. Price—one box, $3; two, $5; twelve, $20.

WORMS! WORMS!

☞ A great many learned treatises have been written, explaining the origin of, and classifying the worms generated in the human system. Scarcely any topic of medical science has elicited more acute observation and profound research; and yet physicians are very much divided in opinion on the subject. It must be admitted, however, that, after all, a mode of expelling these worms, and purifying the body from their presence, is of more value than the nicest disquisitions as to the origin. The expelling agent has at length been found.—Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros. is the much sought after specific, and has already superseded all other worm medicines its efficacy being universally acknowledged by medical practitioners.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

In all diseases inflammation more or less predominates—now to allay inflammation strikes at the root of disease—hence an immediate cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR

will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Piles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR

In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,
The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

BOERHAVE'S
HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER.

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful remedy has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

EXTRAORDINARY SALE OF JEWELRY, with a Premium to each purchaser worth from Two Dollars to Two Hundred!

This is no Lottery, but a fair and legitimate sale, in which each purchaser gets the value of his or her money in a Gold Pencil with Gold Pen attached, or a Gold Locket, worth $5; and in addition to the purchase, each person receives a Premium of jewelry, not less in value than $2, and it may be worth $3, 5, 8, 10, 15, 20, 30, 50, or even $100!

Our Premiums are distributed in a fair and honorable manner, and as soon as the name of the purchaser is received with the $5, his Pencil and Pen and Premium, or Gold Locket and Premium, are put up in a small box, in a safe manner, and sent to the owner by Mail, Free of Postage. Our plan, from long experience in the above business, has given general satisfaction, as each purchaser can Sell or Trade the above articles for all they cost him, and retain the Premium Gratis.

☞ We want a good Agent in every part of the country to solicit purchasers; and Agents, to be successful, should first have a Pencil and Pen and Premium, or Locket and Premium, or both, to exhibit; and the first person becoming a Purchaser at any place will receive the Agency for that neighborhood.

NO MONEY RISKED!

We propose to let a person know what Premium he will receive before sending his money. Any Lady or Gentleman desiring one of the above articles, can first send us their name and address, stating whether they want the Pencil and Pen, or Locket, and we will make their selection, and inform them by return Mail what Premium they are entitled to. They can then have the privilege of sending for it if they choose. We cannot, however, give this privilege but once to any person; and we make this offer to establish the quality of our goods in a neighborhood. After a person becomes a purchaser, and accepts the Agency, we require all persons in that locality to send their $5 in advance through him.

And if any one is dissatisfied with their purchase, and an unbiassed person competent to judge says the articles are not worth more than the money paid for them, and in some cases Ten, or even Forty times the amount, let such person return the goods, and we will freely refund the money.

Among our Premiums are articles suitable for Ladies and Gentlemen, such as Gentlemen's Gold and Silver Watches, Gold Vest and Guard Chains, Gold Sleeve Buttons, Gold Watch Keys and seals. Gold Shirt Studs—plain and with settings; Gold Scarf Pins—new style; Gold Breast Pins, California Diamond Pins, Gold Rings, &c. &c.

FOR LADIES,

We have Gold Watches, Florentine, Moonis, Gold Stone, Cameo, Garnet and Coral Breast Pins and Ear Rings, Gold Bracelets, Gold Sleeve Buttons, Gold Belt Slides, Gold Rings, &c. &c. Also, Pianos, Melodeons, Musical Boxes, Accordeons, &c. &c.

☞ Unexceptionable References given whenever required.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT. For Inflammatory Diseases only.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALT, instead of being a remedy for all ills, has but one aim, and accomplishes but one thing, to wit: Subdues inflammatory disease, whatever be its form or locality. This it does by equalizing the circulation, thereby removing the sole cause of inflamation.

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, Headache, Fits, Colds, Fevers, Inflamed Throat, Lungs, and Liver, Female Diseases Erysipelas, Bronchitis, Pleurisy, Asthma, Dyspepsia, Venereal Diseases, Gout, Scrofula, Canker and all other forms of Inflamation are easily subdued by the New Medical Salt.

THE NEW MEDICAL SALT is no CURE-ALL, but does just what it claims to do—no more, no less—equalizes the circulation by removing from the system all arterial and venous obstructions.

MULTITUDES HAVE TRIED the virtues of the New Medical Salt, though but lately discovered and introduced. Witness the testimonials and certificates of cure.

ALL WHO HAVE USED IT acknowledge a benefit from it.—An acquaintance of ours was cured of a severe case of Neuralgia in less than a week.

YOUR INVALUABLE MEDICINE is nobly fulfilling, in my case, all the promises which you made for it. A few doses also relieved my mother of a rush of blood to the head.

J. P. GILLINGHAM, Phila.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM was my complaint. The first package did the work effectually, as not a vestige of Rheumatism is left. G. H. DUNCAN, New York.

I KNOW IT IS GOOD for Rheumatism, removing it in a few hours. I am now trying it for Scrofula, and have already received benefit. E. LESSIG, Reading.

I TRIED IT FOR ANEURISM of the Abdominal Aorta. In ten days the pain was gone.

T. W. FITZIMONS, M. D., Phila.

WE SPEAK BY THE BOOK. We have tried it. It has complete control over inflamation.

BRONCHITIS, CANKER, Rheumatism, and Neuralgia have been cured by it.

MANY MORE WOULD TESTIFY, if necessary. Descriptive Circulars, with testimonials may be obtained from any Druggists who has this valuable medicine for sale.

DR. COGGSWELL'S Antiphlogistic salt. Price, One Dollar. Chronic Package, $2.50.

Gen. Agents, 202 Dock St. Phila.

THE NEW MEDICAL SALT IS FOR SALE in Altoona, by A. Roush; Geo. A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg, and by all enterprising druggists wherever the "Tribune" is read. SUFFERING HUMANITY, READ THIS.—The undersigned takes this method of informing the public generally that there is no medicine now offered to the public that is equal to DU VALL'S GALVANIC OIL in relieving suffering humanity.

I was an observer of its effects on a friend of mine, who suffered almost everything from a neuralgic affection which resisted the best medical treatment in Centre county. We applied freely the Galvanic Oil to the painful part, and gave some inwardly, and in 20 minutes the pain ceased, and when awakened was free from pain and continued so. This is a positive fact which I am willing to make good at any time. A case of Felon was cured in nearly the same length of time. J. H. HAHN,
